Future Developments Metro Purple Line

Phase II of the Metro Expo Line, a $1.5 billion, 6.6-mile extension from Culver City to Santa Monica has seven stations serving West Los Angeles/Santa Monica and was completed in 2015. By 2030, an estimated 64,000 passengers are expected to ride the Expo Line each day making it one of the most heavily used light rail lines in the country. The Purple Line is currently undergoing construction to extend the line by 2026 with new stations servicing Beverly Hills, Westwood and Brentwood. With a central location, tenants will have high speed and traffic-free access to major employment centers including the Westside, Mid-Wilshire, Hollywood, and Downtown Los Angeles. Eventually, the line is expected to connect with a planned rail route between the Westside and the San Fernando Valley, as well as a proposed northern extension of the under-construction Crenshaw/LAX Line. This high level of accessibility appeals to the target renter looking to have easy access to all that Los Angeles has to offer, whether it be for work or play.
