

Mark Feldgreber

Associate

---

Professional Experience

While attending California State University, Fullerton, Mark interned at a capital management company where he focused on financial analysis. After graduating, he was promoted to Assistant Property Manager where he oversaw 1 million square feet of commercial real estate. His experience in managing this asset class has allowed him to gain the edge over his peers and add value to all types of industrial real estate.

The skills Mark has developed early in his career, combined with his drive and motivation to surpass client expectations, is what makes him an excellent broker.
