Professional Experience

Jeff specializes in the acquisition, disposition, sales and leasing of industrial, office and investment properties in the Scottsdale Airpark. Representing both landlords and tenants, Jeff's top priority is providing his clients with the knowledge they need to make informed decisions. Growing up working for his family's commercial roofing business, Jeff was taught the importance of hard work, attention to detail and overcoming obstacles from a young age. These skills, and many others, have enabled him to continuously provide his customers with satisfactory results.
