Professional Experience

Alondra Salazar, a recent graduate from San Francisco State University, is passionate about building relationships, design, and commercial real estate. In college, she demonstrated dedication and leadership as a key player on the women's soccer team, while also refining analytical skills through participation in Moot Court legal negotiations.

Post-graduation, Alondra seamlessly transitioned into the professional world, starting as a design assistant for a San Francisco Interior Design Firm. Today, she excels as a commercial broker for DAUM DTLA specializing in industrial real estate.
